LANCASTER AND VICINITY.

The Lat-st.

In answer to telegrams this morning we were told that there were no new developments in the governor's race. Both sides are claiming the victory and saying "the official count" will let in their man. The party leaders are watching each other like a cat watching a rat hole, and the tricks that are not being resorted to are not worth the while. The stench from the situation grows more foul every day, and 'twould be a blessing if a millstone could be placed about the neck of the whole shooting match and it be cast into the depths of the sea.

Come and get a Tailor made suit at ready-made prices. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed. J. C. HEMPHILL.

A number of people sat up, prowled around and annoyed their neighbors watching for the "meteoric shower" scheduled for Tuesday night.

The Stanford Journal says there were 700 cattle there Monday, but hardly half sold, these ranging from 34 to 44c. Horses and mules slow.

I will take corn, wheat, barley, hay or anything in that line for new or second hand buggies, surreys, road-wagons etc. W. J. ROMANS.

Always in the Lead.

Standard Granulated Sugar 20 lbs. for $1.00, 5c per lb. To consume only this week at BLUE GRASS GROCERY CO.

Rev. Robinson will preach at Bryantsville next Sunday at 11 a. m. and at McKendree at 6 p. m. The meeting at McKendree is increasing in interest.

As the company presenting Faust carries two stage carpenters, two electricians and their own scenery, the production here will be as perfect as when given in larger cities.

Years of experience have taught us how to buy the latest styles at the most reasonable prices. This knowledge enables us to give you better bargains than can generally be found outside the cities. J. Joseph.

A special lot cut flowers will be received Monday, p. m. for your girl to wear to the theater. Will be on exhibition Monday afternoon and Tuesday at the Blue Grass Store. W. H. GRUBBS, Agt. for Honaker, Lexington.

Big Minstrel Festival.

Richard & Pringles and Rusco & Hollands Big Minstrel Festival will appear at the Opera House next Friday night, the 24th. They carry two bands, have 52 people and travel in two private cars.

Ready For The Show.

A large force of hands are working on the Opera House and it will certainly be ready TUESDAY NIGHT for the production of Faust. The chairs are ready, the stage almost complete and the furnaces will be put in Monday. If you want to see this production, you had better secure your seat. The house will be completed in a few days.

The Greatest Soap Sale.

In the whole history of Lancaster begins here this morning. The Eighth Wonder Of The World is now on exhibition in our show window. A facsimile of the Great Morro Castle Of Havana, Cuba, also a re-production of the famous Battle Of San Juan Hill, built of cakes of Cutsicular Soap. It is the most magnificent display of fine toilet soap ever exhibited in the world, and brings with it the greatest soap bargain ever offered in America. Two Cakes For Five Cents. Everybody welcome to all they want at this price. This soap has been made especially for us by The Crown Soap Company, of Cincinnati, whose soaps have been the standard for nearly a quarter of a century, and to introduce the Cutsicular Soap thoroughly, they permit us to sell it 2 cakes for five cents for a limited time only. This gives us power to save money for all persons. It is a wonderfully fine, dainty soap, soothing to the skin, beautifying to the complexion and is sold upon its merits exclusively. Regular price is ten cents a cake. Remember our price, 2 cakes for 5 cents. It is so cheap that it can be no cheaper. And so good that it can be no better. The rich can get no better toilet soap than this and the poor can afford a good toilet soap at this price. Sale began Wednesday. Come early before the rush commences. J. Joseph, sole agents.

Now is Your Chance.

Our entire line of queensware at cost, until Dec. 15th consisting of toilet sets, lamps, dinner and tea sets, glassware etc. We have the most complete line in Lancaster. FULLER & SYMPSON.

Only One "Important" Fight Sunday.

Jim Wiggles had both lips cut and his countenance considerably disfigured by being hit with a pistol on Battle Row Sunday. We didn't learn name of the other negro, who hit him, but reports say he also fired several shots at Wiggles. The latter is an honest, hardworking man when sober, but Battle Row whiskey occasionally gets him in trouble. This was the principal scrap on last Sunday's program, the others not amounting to much.

Awakening Much Interest.

The meeting at the Baptist church is drawing large crowds every morning and evening, and the sermons by Rev. Bow are highly complimented by all. Services are held every morning at 10 and evening at 7 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. Massee, asks THE RECORD to extend an urgent invitation to all to attend both services.

Faust Presented Sure.

The chairs for the Opera House have arrived and work is being rapidly pushed to get the building near enough completed for the introduction of Faust next Wednesday night, the 22nd. Manager Fissinger tells THE RECORD that while the house may not be plastered, yet it will be in good enough shape to give the show. As it was impossible to get this company on any other date, it will have to appear here on that night. It will be a treat which few country towns ever have the chance of enjoying. Reserved seats are on sale at Stormes' drug store.

Frohman & Co. Sell Out.

J. L. Frohman & Co., whose name every newspaper reader in Central Kentucky is familiar with, have sold their stock in Danville to T. O. Miller, of Cincinnati, possession to be given January 1st. Mr. Frohman will go to Chicago to engage in the manufacturing business. He has built up an immense business in this section of the state, and everyone who has patronized him is delighted with his business methods. Mr. Frohman is a man who has been thrown with the leading business men of the country, consequently knows the value of printer's ink. He says he would as leave do without clerks as be without newspaper advertising. He has made a great success in Danville and now has one of the largest trades in the state, but he sees where he can do better, and, like the business man that he is, will accept the chance. He came to Kentucky a stranger, but we will say that no man hereabouts has more friends, or stands higher in the estimation of the people than does Joe Frohman. There is nothing of the moss-back order about him, and he is the kind of citizen that will help any town.

The Kay Peas meet tomorrow night.

Fox Hunt.

The national fox hunters association will hold its annual meeting at Estill Springs on November 15 to 25th. The days will be devoted to the chase, and balls will be given in the evening at the Estill Springs Hotel. The meeting will be a great society event.

Surveying on The Stanford Road.

The Stanford Journal says Mr. I. M. Bruce, who staid with Capt. Mable, till he reached the Rockcastle line in his survey for the Southern railroad, says that the captain is greatly pleased with the line he found and says it can be built reasonably cheap. Three small tunnels will have to be built, but altogether they are not as long as one on the Lancaster line.

Holton Frank Preaches.

The Christian church was crowded Sunday morning by people who were anxious to hear Holton Frank, the youngest son of the lamented Joseph C. Frank. The young man is still in his 'teens, but his sermons are deep in thought and language. His talk Sunday morning showed him to be deeply in earnest in his work, and all who heard him predict a brilliant future for him. He said Sunday that when he used to sit in the Lancaster church (pointing to a certain pew) that he little thought he would so soon be called upon to fill its pulpit. He had occupied that seat many a time and listened to his father. "Today father is above listening to me, while I am in his old place striving to prepare myself and others to meet him up there." We do not believe a boy was ever given a more cordial and hearty reception anywhere than was he. His visit called to the memory of many the noble work done by his father in this town. What a blessing it would be if he could only come back to earth and work for a few weeks in Lancaster.

FAUST AGAIN.

That Grand Old Scriptural Lesson to Be at the Garrard Opera House.

No play ever in our city has met with such universal approval as this grand masterpiece of Goethe, the German Shakespeare, and no portrayal of that weird Satanic Mephisto so indelibly stamped upon the minds of the large audience who witnessed the part taken by Mr. Porter J. White, and his return to the city with a show double its former size, of unsurpassed magnificence, with the grandest electrical and mechanical effects ever shown with a "Faust" production in this city. This the local management personally guarantees. This is the only Faust Company that absolutely carries a full choir for the cathedral scene, the same being specially engaged by Mr. White from the Church of the Transfiguration St. Louis, Mo. The Detroit Free Press of recent date says that the beautiful rendition of the Drinking Chorus in the grand opera, "Faust" by Mr. White's management quartette, was the most impressive of anything ever heard of that nature in Detroit, and was alone well worth the price of admission. Mr. White is the only one playing this play under his own name. Other companies are out purporting to be this and that, and only using the names of reputable stars to further their personal interests, caring little for the daily sacrifices they are making of the hard earned reputation of Mr. Morrison, who well deserves to rank at the head of his class. Unlike these spurious attractions above mentioned, Mr. White personally superintends his productions and appears at every performance.

At Opera House, Tuesday Nov. 21.

COLUMBUS, IND., Nov. 24th, 1898.

To whom it May Concern:

I have played all legitimate productions of Faust, including White, Morrison, Griffith, and others, and am frank to say that Porter J. White's beautiful portrayal and rendition of that grand scriptural lesson "Goethe's Faust" is the best staged and most artistic production of the weird drama ever in my house. "White is good enough for me." Respectfully, JOHN C. CRUMP, Owner and Mgr. Crump's Theater. One night only. Opera House, November 21.

W. H. Grubbs, agent for Honaker, the Florist, Lexington, will take orders for cut flowers. See display in window at Blue Grass Grocery Monday and Tuesday.

Porter J. White carries over 10,000 feet of electrical wire, eight calicums and almost 20,000 square feet of scenery, all of this will be used in his big production of "Faust" in this city.

Free Camera.

A free Camera will be given to each boy who buys a suit from the Stanley Tailoring Company, and they will save money, where breast measure is under 35. M. D. HUGHES, Ag't.

Should Remember George.

If Mr. Goebel goes into office, he should give Geo. T. Farris the best berth at his disposal. No man ever worked harder for a friend than did Mr. Farris for Goebel, and there is nothing too good for him to have.

Dr. Kinnaird Out of Town.

Dr. J. B. Kinnaird leaves this week for New York and Philadelphia to attend a course of special medical lectures. He will be absent until Dec. 16. Upon his return his office will be in the Bookout property he recently purchased, opposite Presbyterian church, on Danville street. Dr. Kinnaird keeps abreast of the times and frequently makes trips East to attend lectures on all the new discoveries in his profession.
